

Mark Glick

Mark Glick is a professor of economics and an adjunct professor of law at the University of Utah. He received his Ph.D. in economics in 1985 and his J.D. degree in 1990. He specializes in law and economics, industrial organization, damage analysis and antitrust law. He is currently of counsel with the law firm of Parsons Behle & Latimer and is a partner with Wasatch Economics.