Rule 14-707. Application; deadlines; withdrawals; postponements and fees.

(a) Form. Each Applicant must submit a Complete Application for admission in accordance with the instructions prescribed by the Bar. Such application shall include an authorization and release enabling the Bar to obtain information concerning the Applicant.

(b) Filing deadlines generally. Except as otherwise provided herein, the Bar shall receive Complete Applications by October 1 preceding the February Bar Examination and by March 1 preceding the July Bar Examination. A Complete Application will be accepted up to 15 calendar days after the filing deadline if accompanied by the prescribed 15-day late fee. A Complete Application will be accepted up to November 1 for the February Bar Examination if accompanied by the prescribed 30-day late fee and up to April 1 for the July Bar Examination if accompanied by the prescribed 30-day late fee. In accordance with the filing instructions and information for the application, late or incomplete applications will not be accepted with the following exceptions:

Certificates of law school graduation must be received by the Bar no later than thirty (30) calendar days prior to the Bar Examination. In the event the certificate of law school graduation is not timely received by the Bar, an Applicant will not be permitted to take the Bar Examination.

(b)(2) An Applicant who has not received the criminal background report may submit the application without a criminal background report provided the Applicant provides proof that a criminal background request has been filed prior to submission of the application. Sufficient proof of submission of the criminal background request shall be by declaration in the form prescribed by the Bar. The criminal background report should be submitted to the Bar within fourteen (14) calendar days of the Applicant’s receipt of the report but no later than thirty (30) calendar days prior to the next scheduled licensing ceremony. The Character and Fitness Committee may withdraw or modify its approval based upon information contained in the criminal background report. In the event the criminal background report is not timely received by the Bar, an Applicant will not be admitted at the licensing ceremony.

(c) Filing deadlines for Disbarred Attorneys. Disbarred Attorneys may not file an application for admission until the later of five years after the effective date of the license revocation or the date specified in the disciplinary order. Disbarred Attorneys must comply with Rule 14-717(b), if applicable. Complete Applications for Disbarred Attorneys shall be received by the Bar by September 1 preceding the February Bar Examination and by February 1 preceding the July Bar Examination. Late applications for Disbarred Attorneys are not permitted.
(d) Withdrawal of applications and refunds. To withdraw an application, written notice must be provided. If written notice of withdrawal is received by the Admissions Office 30 calendar days or more before the examination date, one-half of the filing fee shall be refunded, unless the Applicant withdraws after appearing before the Character and Fitness Committee or after the Bar has incurred nonrefundable expenses related to a test accommodation request. Late fees, computer fees, and the application fees of Applicants not taking the Bar Examination are nonrefundable.

A Reapplication for Admission will be accepted up to 15 calendar days after the filing deadline if accompanied by the prescribed 15-day late fee. A Reapplication for Admission form will be accepted up to November 1 for the February Bar Examination if accompanied by the 30-day late fee and up to April 1 for the July Bar Examination if accompanied by the prescribed 30-day late fee.

Rule 14-708. Character and fitness.

(a) Standard of character and fitness. An attorney's conduct should conform to the requirements of the law, both in professional service to clients and in the attorney's business and personal affairs. An attorney should be one whose record of conduct justifies the trust of clients, adversaries, courts, and others with respect to the professional duties owed to them. An Applicant whose record manifests a significant deficiency in honesty, trustworthiness, diligence, or reliability shall be denied admission. The Applicant has the burden of proof to establish by clear and convincing evidence her or his fitness to practice law. Applicants must be approved by the Character and Fitness Committee prior to sitting for the Bar Examination. At any time before being admitted to the Bar, the Character and Fitness Committee may withdraw or modify its approval.

(b) Investigative process; investigative interview. Investigations into the character and fitness of Applicants may be informal, but shall be thorough, with the object of ascertaining the truth.

(b)(1) The Character and Fitness Committee may conduct an investigation and may act with or without requiring a personal appearance by an Applicant.

(b)(2) At the discretion of the Character and Fitness Committee, an Applicant may be required to attend an investigative interview conducted by one or more members of the Committee. The investigative interview shall be informal but the Applicant shall have the right to counsel and shall be notified in writing of the general factual areas of inquiry. Documentary evidence may be provided as part of the investigation, but no witnesses will be permitted to appear during the interview. The interview shall be a closed proceeding.

(b)(3) After an investigative interview has been conducted, the Applicant shall be notified regarding whether or not she or he has been approved to sit for the Bar Examination. Applicants who are not approved will be notified regarding those areas that are of concern to the Committee. An Applicant seeking review of the decision must request a formal hearing within ten calendar days of notice of the Committee's decision. The request must be made in writing and provided to the Deputy General Counsel. The hearing will be conducted in accordance with Rule 14-708(c).

(b)(4) The Committee may determine that an Applicant must take corrective action before approval of her or his application can be granted. The Applicant shall be notified in writing of the action required. No later than 30 days prior to the date of the Bar Examination, the Applicant must provide written documentation to the Deputy General Counsel proving that the required corrective action has been completed.

(b)(4)(A) If the documentation is not provided as required within 30 days prior to the Bar Examination, the Applicant must, instead, submit to the Deputy General Counsel, a written request to transfer, including the payment of the prescribed transfer fee. The request must specify when the corrective action will be completed and which future examination the Applicant plans to take.
(b)(4)(B) The exam must be taken within the next two scheduled Bar Examinations. An Applicant is entitled to one transfer only.

(b)(4)(C) The application of an Applicant who neither takes corrective action nor requests a transfer shall be considered withdrawn.

(c) Formal hearing; Applicant's request. In matters where the Character and Fitness Committee decides to convene or an Applicant so requests, the Character and Fitness Committee shall hold a formal hearing. The formal hearing shall be a closed proceeding and may be scheduled whether or not preceded by an investigative interview.

(c)(1) A formal hearing shall be attended by no fewer than three Character and Fitness Committee members. Five calendar days before the hearing, the Applicant and the Committee must provide a list of witnesses and a copy of any exhibits to be offered into evidence. If an Applicant chooses to submit a written statement, it must also be filed five calendar days before the hearing.

(c)(2) Written notice of the formal hearing shall be given at least ten calendar days before the hearing. Notice shall be sent to the Applicant at the address in the application. The notice shall include a statement of the preliminary factual matters of concern. The matters inquired into at the hearing are not limited to those identified in the notice, but may include any concerns relevant to making a determination regarding the Applicant's character and fitness.

(c)(3) The formal hearing will have a complete stenographic record made by a certified court reporter or an electronic record made by means acceptable in the courts of Utah. All testimony shall be taken under oath. Although no formal rules of evidence or civil procedure will apply, an Applicant has the right to counsel, the right to cross-examine witnesses, the right to examine the evidence and the right to present witnesses and documentary evidence. An Applicant is entitled to make reasonable use of the Bar's subpoena powers to compel attendance of witnesses and to adduce relevant evidence relating to matters adverse to the applicant.

(c)(4) Written findings of fact and conclusions of law shall be issued no later than 45 calendar days after the formal hearing and any subsequent inquiries have been concluded. In computing the period of time, the last day of the period shall be included, unless it is a Saturday, a Sunday, or a legal holiday, in which event the period extends until the end of the next day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or a legal holiday. “Legal holiday” includes days designated as holidays by the state or federal governments.

(d) Factors related to character and fitness. In addition to the standards set forth in Rules 14-708(a), and 14-708(f) and Rule 14-717, if applicable, the Character and Fitness Committee may use the following factors to decide whether an Applicant possesses the requisite character and fitness to practice law:

(d)(2) unlawful conduct;
(d)(3) academic misconduct;
(d)(4) making of false or misleading statements, including omissions;
(d)(5) misconduct in employment;
(d)(6) acts involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit or misrepresentation;

(d)(11) evidence of mental or emotional instability;
(d)(12) evidence of drug or alcohol dependency;
(d)(13) lack of diligence or reliability;
(d)(14) lack of civility;
(d)(15) denial of admission to the bar in another jurisdiction on character and fitness grounds;
(d)(16) past or pending disciplinary action by a lawyer disciplinary agency or other professional disciplinary agency of any jurisdiction; and (d)(17) other conduct bearing upon character or fitness to practice law.

(e) Assigning weight and significance to prior conduct. In making a determination as to the requisite character and fitness, the following factors should be considered in assigning weight and significance to prior conduct:

(e)(1) age at the time of conduct;
(e)(2) recency of the conduct;

(f)(3) A rebuttable presumption exists against admission of an Applicant convicted of a felony offense. For purposes of this rule, a conviction includes entry of a nolo contendere (no contest) plea. An Applicant who has been convicted of a felony offense is not eligible to apply for admission until after the date of completion of any sentence, term of probation or term of parole or supervised release, whichever occurred last. Upon an Applicant's eligibility, a formal hearing may be held as set forth in Rule 14-708(a). Factors to be considered by the Committee include, but are not limited to, the nature and seriousness of the criminal conduct resulting in the conviction(s), mitigating and aggravating factors including completion of terms and conditions of any sentence imposed, payment of restitution if applicable, and demonstration of clearly proven rehabilitation.

(g) Appeal. An Applicant has the right to have the Admissions Committee review a decision made after a formal hearing as set forth in this article. A decision after a formal hearing is a prerequisite to an Admissions Committee review. The review will be conducted in accordance with Rule 14-715.
(h) Reapplication. Reapplication after denial in a character and fitness determination may not be made prior to one year from the date of the final decision (including the appellate decision, if applicable), unless a different time period is specified in the final decision. If just cause exists, then the Character and Fitness Committee may require an Applicant to wait up to three years from the date of the final decision to reapply. If a reapplication period longer than one year is set for a Disbarred Attorney, then the time period is subject to approval by the district court hearing the petition for reinstatement. See Rule 14-525.
Rule 14-709. Application denial.

(a) Notice from Bar. An Applicant whose application is denied because the Bar determines the Applicant does not meet the qualifications for admission under this article will receive written notice from the Bar that her or his application has been denied, along with a statement explaining the deficiency and reason(s) for denial.

(b) Exam components. The Bar Examination components are the MEE, MPT, and MBE.

(c) The Bar Examination is administered only for the purpose of admission to the Bar.
Rule 14-711. Grading and passing the Bar Examination.

(a) Grading the Written Component of the Bar Examination. MEE and MPT answers shall be uniformly graded on a scale from zero to five points. In order to assure maximum fairness and uniformity in grading, the Board or its designees shall prescribe procedures and standards for grading to be used by all graders.

(b) Scoring the Written Component of the Bar Examination. The MEE and MPT scores added together constitute the raw Written Component score. The raw Written Component score is scaled to the MBE portion of the examination using the standard deviation method.

(c) Weighting of exam components. The MBE score is weighted 50%, the MEE score is weighted 30% and the MPT score is weighted 20% in calculating the Applicant’s total score.

(d) Passing grade. The Applicant’s total score is the sum of the scaled MBE score and the scaled Written Component score. The total score is based on a 400-point scale. A total score of 270 or above is required to pass the Bar Examination.

(e) Bar Examination results are final. Bar Examination answers will not be reread, reevaluated or regraded by the Bar or its designees.
Rule 14-712. Qualifications for admission based on UBE.

(a) Timing of application and admission. An application may be filed at any time. Processing of the application and the character and fitness investigation require a minimum of four months to complete.

(b) UBE score transferability. An Applicant who has taken and completed the UBE in a single administration in a jurisdiction other than Utah may transfer the UBE score by filing an application provided:

(b)(1) the Applicant meets all the requirements of Rule 14-703 or Rule 14-704;

(b)(2) the Applicant has not been denied by any jurisdiction on character and fitness grounds;

(b)(3) the UBE score is 270 or above; and

(b)(4) the Bar receives the Applicant’s UBE score no later than nine months after the filing of the application. To transfer a UBE score, an Applicant must send a written transfer request, along with the prescribed fee, to the NCBE.

(c) Time limitations on transferability. The transferability of the UBE score will be subject to the following time limitations:

(c)(1) the UBE score is transferable for all Applicants only if the application is filed within 24 months of the administration of the UBE in which the passing score was earned;

(c)(2) the UBE may be transferable for up to five years from the administration of the UBE in which the passing score was earned if the Attorney Applicant can prove by clear and convincing evidence that she or he has been admitted to a U.S. state, territory, or the District of Columbia and has been Actively engaged in the Full-time Practice of Law as defined in Rule 14-701(b), (f) and (ee) for at least one-half of the time period since the score was earned.

(d) Utah legal education requirement. Applicants who gain admission by transferring a UBE score and who have less than two years of legal practice must complete the New Lawyer Training Program as outlined in Rule 14-808.

(d)(1) Those Applicants who gain admission by transferring a UBE score that have two or more years of legal practice shall complete and certify no later than six months following the Applicant’s admission that she or he has attended at least 15 hours of continuing legal education on Utah practice and procedure and ethics and civility requirements.
(d)(2) The Board may by regulation specify the number of the required 15 hours that must be in particular areas of practice, procedure, ethics and civility. Included in this mandatory 15 hours is attendance at the Bar's OPC ethics school.
Rule 14-715. Appeals.

A request for review of a final decision, along with the prescribed filing fee, must be filed with the Bar in writing within 10 calendar days of the date on the written notice of the decision. The request for review shall contain a short and plain statement of the reasons that the Applicant is entitled to relief. Any of the following decisions qualify as final and are therefore subject to appeal:

(c) Burden of Proof. The Applicant bears the burden of proof by clear and convincing evidence. Harmless error does not constitute a basis to set aside the decision. On appeal, the decision may be affirmed, modified, or reversed. The decision, whether based on testimony or documentary evidence, shall not be set aside unless clearly erroneous, and deference shall be given to those making the decision to judge the credibility of witnesses.

(d) Review process. An Applicant’s appearance at the review will only be permitted if deemed necessary. The review will be a closed proceeding and will be limited to consideration of the record, the Applicant’s memorandum, and the Bar’s responsive memorandum, if any. Requests for review setting forth common issues may be consolidated in whole or in part. After the completion of the review, a written decision shall be issued.

The issues in the memorandum must be limited to matters contained in the record. The review panel will not consider issues raised for the first time in the request for review. The memorandum must be filed within 30 calendar days of the filing of the request for review. The Bar may file a response, but no reply memorandum will be permitted.
(e) Supreme Court appeal. Within 30 calendar days of the date on the panel’s written decision, the Applicant may appeal to the Supreme Court by filing a notice of appeal with the clerk of the Supreme Court and serving a copy upon the General Counsel for the Bar. At the time of filing the notice of appeal, the Applicant shall pay the prescribed filing fee to the clerk of the Supreme Court. The clerk will not accept a notice of appeal unless the filing fee is paid.

(e)(2)(B) a statement of the facts necessary to an understanding of the issues presented by the appeal;

(e)(2)(C) the legal argument supporting the petitioner’s request; and

(e)(2)(D) a certificate reflecting service of the appeal petition upon the General Counsel.

(e)(5) The clerk of the Supreme Court will notify the parties if any additional briefing or oral argument is permitted. Upon entry of the Supreme Court’s decision, the clerk shall give notice of the decision.

(b) Standard of review. Board or its designee shall only review the request of filing. Applicants who claim that failure was because of a substantial irregularity in the administration of the examination that resulted in manifest unfairness or because of mathematical errors in the scoring of the Applicant’s examination. A substantial irregularity in the administration of the examination will not be a matter that will result in questions or answers being retrod, reevaluated or regraded. The Board and its designee shall not retrod, reevaluate or regrade bar examination answers.

(c) Bar Examination review and appeal procedure. The request for review shall contain a short and plain statement of the reasons that the Applicant is entitled to relief based on Rule 14-715(b).

(c)(1) Review panel and Board decision. The review panel consisting of no fewer than three members of the Admissions Committee shall review all relevant evidence. Rule 14-716. License fees; enrollment fees; oath and admission.

(a) Court enrollment fees and Bar license fee. After notification that the Board has approved the Applicant for admission, the Applicant must pay to the Bar the applicable Bar license fee for either Active or Inactive status. The Bar also collects and transmits the federal and state court enrollment fees. The Applicant must pay to the Bar the mandatory Supreme Court enrollment fee, regardless of whether the Applicant elects Active or Inactive attorney status.

(b) Motion for admission and enrollment. Upon satisfaction of the requirements of Rule 14-716(a), the Board will submit motions to the Supreme Court and the United States District Court for the District of Utah for admission certifying that the Applicants have satisfied all qualifications and requirements for admission to the Bar. The Board will submit three motions for admission per year: October, February and May. At its discretion, the Board may also file a motion in July. After the motions are submitted and upon approval by the Supreme Court and the United States District Court for the District of Utah and upon taking the required oath, an Applicant is eligible to be enrolled into Utah’s state and federal courts.

(c) Oath of attorney and certificate of admission. Every Applicant must take an oath. The oath must be administered by the clerk of the Supreme Court, the clerk of a court of the United States, a Utah state judge of district or juvenile court level or higher, a judge of a court of the United States or a judge of a court of general jurisdiction or higher of a state of the United States. In the event of military assignment, a military court judge may administer the oath. After administration of the oath, each Applicant must sign the roll of attorneys maintained by the clerk of the Supreme Court at which time the Applicant receives a certificate of admission. If the oath is administered other than at a licensing ceremony, the Applicant must contact the clerk of the Supreme Court for information on administration of the oath, and if applicable, the clerk of the United States District Court for the District of Utah.

(d) Time limit for admission. An Applicant must resolve all application deficiencies and gain character and fitness approval within one year of filing the application or the application is closed. After receiving notice of character and fitness approval, an Applicant must pay the prescribed license and enrollment fees and take the oath as required by Rule 14-716(c) within 36 months or approval for admission is automatically withdrawn. Failure to timely satisfy the provisions of this rule requires an Applicant to recommence the application process including the submission of a new application, the payment of application fees, a new character and fitness investigation and the retaking of the Bar Examination, if applicable.
Rule 14-717. Readmission after resignation or disbarment of Utah attorneys.

(a) Readmission after resignation without discipline pending. Readmission subsequent to the resignation without discipline pending of a member of the Bar requires a new application, payment of fees, and a character and fitness investigation. An Applicant is not required to retake the Bar Examination but must fully comply with the requirements of Rule 14-716.

(b) Readmission of Disbarred Attorneys. An Applicant for readmission to the Bar shall satisfy all requirements of this article, including Rules 14-703, 14-707(c), 14-708, and 14-716, and shall satisfy all other requirements imposed by Rule 14-525, the OPC, and Utah courts. A report and recommendation shall be filed by the Character and Fitness Committee in the district court in which the Applicant has filed his or her petition for readmission. (c) A Disbarred Attorney Applicant must undergo a formal hearing as set forth in Rule 14-708(c). A Disbarred Attorney Applicant has the burden of proving rehabilitation by clear and convincing evidence. (c)(5)(A) strict compliance with all disciplinary and judicial orders;

(c)(5)(B) provide evidence of full restitution of funds or property where applicable;

(c)(5)(C) a lack of malice toward those who instituted the original proceeding against the Applicant;

(c)(5)(G) treatment for and current control of any substance abuse problem and/or psychological condition, if such were factors contributing to the disbarment or resignation; and

(c)(5)(H) positive action showing rehabilitation by such things as a person's occupation, religion, or community or civic service. Merely showing that the Applicant is now living as and doing those things she or he should have done throughout life, although necessary to prove rehabilitation, does not prove that the individual has undertaken a useful and constructive place in society:

(g)(2) To prove rehabilitation, the Applicant must demonstrate the following:

(g)(2)(A) positive action showing rehabilitation by such things as a person's occupation, religion, or community or civic service. Merely showing that the Applicant is now living as and doing those things she or he should have done throughout life, although necessary to prove rehabilitation, does not prove that the individual has undertaken a useful and constructive place in society;

(g)(2)(B) provide evidence of strict compliance with all disciplinary and judicial orders;

(g)(2)(C) unimpeachable character and moral standing in the community;

(g)(2)(D) proof of present professional competence and knowledge;

The issues in the memorandum must be limited to matters contained in the record. The memorandum must be filed within 30 calendar days of the filing of the request for Board review. The Bar may file a response, but no reply memorandum will be permitted.

(h)(2) The decision of the Character and Fitness Committee shall be affirmed if there is substantial and credible evidence to support it. To meet her or his burden of proof, the Applicant must cite to the record and show that the evidence did not support the decision.

(h)(3) Payment of transcript. An Applicant is responsible for paying for and obtaining a duly certified copy of the transcript of the formal hearing proceedings or other electronic record copy as described in Rule 14-708(c)(3).

(h)(4) Harmless error. An Applicant must demonstrate that any errors of law, fact or procedure formed a basis for denial or approval. Harmless error does not constitute a basis to set aside the decision.

(h)(5) The Board panel shall issue a final written decision within 30 calendar days of completing its review.

(i) Supreme Court appeal. Within 30 calendar days after the date of the decision of the Board panel, the Applicant may appeal to the Supreme Court by filing a written notice of appeal with the clerk of the Supreme Court and the general counsel. (i)(2)(C) the legal argument supporting the petitioner's request; and (i)(2)(D) a certificate reflecting service of the appeal petition upon the General Counsel.

(i)(3) Within 30 calendar days after service of the appeal petition on the Bar, the Bar, as respondent, shall file its response with the clerk of the Supreme Court. At the time of filing, a copy of the response shall be served upon the petitioner.
(i)(4) Format of appeal and response petitions. Except by permission of the Supreme Court, the appeal petition and the Bar's response petition shall not exceed 25 double-spaced pages, each. These documents shall be typewritten on 8 ½ inches by 11 inches paper. The text, including footnotes, shall be in type no smaller than ten characters per inch for monospaced typeface and 13-point or larger for proportionally spaced typeface. An original and six copies of the appeal petition and the response petition shall be filed with the clerk of the Supreme Court.

A review panel consisting of no fewer than three members of the Admissions Committee shall review all relevant evidence. The review panel shall make a decision on the request for review and shall notify the Applicant in writing of its decision in the form of a final decision.

(c) Supreme Court appeal. Within 30 calendar days after the date of the final decision, the Applicant may appeal to the Supreme Court by filing a written notice of appeal with the clerk of the Supreme Court and serving a copy upon the General Counsel. The clerk will not accept a notice of appeal unless the filing fee is paid.

(c)(1) Record of proceeding. A record of the proceedings shall be prepared by the Bar and shall be filed with the clerk of the Supreme Court within 21 calendar days following the filing of the notice of appeal.

(b) Standard of review. The Board or its designees shall only review the request of failing Applicants who claim that failure was because of a substantial irregularity in the administration of the examination that resulted in manifest unfairness or because of mathematical errors in the scoring of the Applicant's examination. A substantial irregularity in the administration of the examination will not be a matter that will result in questions or answers being reread, reevaluated or regraded. The Board and its designees shall not reread, reevaluate or regrade Bar Examination answers.

(c) Bar Examination review and appeal procedure. The request for review shall contain a short and plain statement of the reasons that the Applicant is entitled to relief based on Rule 14-715(b).

Re: Invitation to Participate on Utah State Bar’s Commission on the Future of Legal Services in Utah

I am writing to extend you an invitation to serve as a member of the Utah State Bar’s Commission on the Future of Legal Services in Utah (“Futures Commission”).

The Utah State Bar is currently involved in a comprehensive evaluation of the future of the legal profession in Utah and evolving issues in the practice of law resulting from developments in technology and globalization, and changes in demographics and economics. We are now in the process of forming this commission of approximately twenty-five individuals, including government officials, community leaders, thought leaders, and business and legal representatives. The commission will be chaired by Bar Commissioner John Lund of the law firm of Snow, Christensen & Martineau, and Past Bar President Nate Alder of the law firm of Christensen & Jensen. You have been nominated to serve because of your many attributes, skills, talents, insights, and as someone who will be able to contribute to envisioning the future.

The Utah State Bar was organized in 1931 and exists under the direction of the Utah Supreme Court by virtue of the Utah State Constitution. We currently license 11,600 lawyers. Our mission is to serve the public and legal profession with excellence, civility and integrity and strive towards a just legal system that is understood, valued and accessible to all.

The charge and scope of this Futures Commission is to “gather input, study, and consider the ways current and future lawyers can provide legal and law-related services to the public, especially to individuals and small businesses.” The Futures Commission will conduct its introductory and organizational meeting on November 20th, 2014 at Noon in the Bar’s offices at 645 South 200 East in Salt Lake City. Lunch will be served. We will meet on a regular basis through the first six months of 2015. Our goal is to report to the Utah Supreme Court by August 1, 2015. We understand that you have many important interests competing for your time, and therefore want to be respectful of your schedule, so we commit to making meetings as efficient and convenient as possible.

You will be contacted personally by a member of the Bar Commission shortly to answer any questions you may have about this study and to formalize this request for your involvement. More information about the Bar may be found at www.utahbar.org. We hope you will seriously consider joining with us in this important endeavor.

Sincerely,

Being a Leader in the Law: Reflections on Meeting the Responsibilities of the Legal Profession

by Curtis M. Jensen & Gregory H. Gunn

AUTHOR'S NOTE: Mr. Jensen would like to acknowledge and thank John Baldwin, Justice Matthew B. Durrant, Justice Christine M. Durham, Judge David Nuffer, Toby Brown, Former Chief Justice Michael D. Zimmerman, James Rashband, Robert Adler, Jim Gilson, John Lund, and Frederic Ury, for their contribution, comments, and feedback.

The practice of law has changed and, in the words of Yogi Berra, “[t]he future ain't what it used to be.” Not too long ago, attorneys were the sole source from which nonattorneys could access legal information and services. With a strong economy and a demand for legal services, legal practices were growing. All indicators seemed to point to the continuation of a strong legal market. However, the practice of law has evolved due to the blurring of lines between professions, changes in the economy, and technological advances that provide greater public access to legal information. Public perception of the legal profession has continued to decline, with many individuals (including small business owners and the middle class) now unable to afford the legal services attorneys provide. The story does not end there. There is also a growing number of attorneys (mostly new graduates) that are either underemployed or unemployed. The combination of these changes has affected the current legal market, and there is disagreement on how to move through this transitional period. While there is a true challenge facing the profession, there seem to be many voices and many perspectives on how to respond.

The law schools seem to think it is about changing the law schools; the bar associations think it is about new programs; nonlawyers, and perhaps even some lawmakers, think that market forces will be the answer. Regardless of your voice and perspective, we remain firm that attorneys of the Utah State Bar can work together with others to provide a solution for the future of the practice of law within the state of Utah.

CHANGES IN THE PRACTICE OF LAW
The practice of law is changing, and we must recognize this change, both as individuals and as a legal community. If we think like leaders, these changes need not be negative. Rather than remain passive, we should be prepared to take whatever steps are necessary to lead our communities forward. This article summarizes the sources of the changes in the legal market, their potential effect on us as a legal community, and steps we can take to move forward in a way that benefits us as well as our clients.

Sources of Change in the Legal Market
In today's legal market, attorneys no longer serve as the sole source of legal information. Both technology and globalization allow individuals easy access to legal information — information that at one time was only available through attorneys. These two developments, along with a dramatic shift in the economy, have turned the legal market into a buyer's market.

CURTIS M. JENSEN is one of the founding partners of Snow, Jensen & Reese, located in St. George, Utah.

GREGORY H. GUNN is a J.D. Candidate 2015, S.J. Quinney College of Law, University of Utah.
Technology now allows individuals to complete legal documents on their own, obtain answers to their legal questions, and quickly decide where and how to get their legal advice. The presence of online legal service alternatives such as LegalZoom and DirectLaw may be a contributing factor to this change, or it could be caused by a shift in legal consumers' expectations for online resources, leaving “offline” attorneys out of the competition for new customers and expansion of their practice. What is clear is that individuals are going online for legal information — information that is abundantly available on almost any subject or issue — and accessing that information without any specialized legal skills.

The recession of 2008 left its stamp upon many aspects of the economy, and the legal profession (like many others) is still feeling the effects. Now, attorneys face competition for clients, not just among attorneys within the same geographic area but also with online service providers and “do-it-yourself” software programs. Without leaving the comforts of home, consumers have access to legal information that is not only easily accessible and inexpensive but also instantaneous.

Meanwhile, law firms are learning they can no longer continue to do business as they had in the past and are attempting to make changes. In order to remain competitive through the recession, attorneys had to be more efficient at providing the services clients requested while at the same time allowing clients to pay a pre-determined rate or giving clients the opportunity to redline the billing statements. The post-recession consumer of legal services now imposes timeline and price expectations for the delivery of services. Clients now have the real alternative of simply taking their business to someone (online or in person) willing to perform the services at the client's desired price and within the client's desired timeframe. Corporate clients are more cognizant of legal costs, making them cautious before hiring outside work.

The economic changes that began in 2008 have turned the legal market into a buyer's market. During this time, the number of lawyers was growing while the market was shrinking and becoming more demanding. Globalization has also played a critical role in reshaping the traditional model of providing legal services. One can simply email his or her legal request to an online legal service provider and receive a final document that is ready for submission to a client or filing with the court. Businesses and attorneys now realize they can tap into a whole new market of outsourced legal services provided at considerable cost savings. In the end, clients who once paid top dollar now know the majority of their work can be accomplished not only more efficiently but also at a much lower cost.

The Effect of These Forces on the Legal Market
Although technology, globalization, and a dramatic shift in the economy have affected how attorneys find and retain clients, these factors have not changed the public’s perception of attorneys. A recent study asked participants to identify the contribution that attorneys made to society. One-third of those surveyed said attorneys contributed “nothing” or “not very much” to society and placed attorneys at the bottom of the ten professions on the survey. These results are similar to the survey’s 2009 results.

The time when students went to law school, graduated, and found a job that provided a large income may be over—with many possible law school applicants choosing to not even apply. The current reality is that there are more students than there are available jobs, and students are finding that they cannot secure a job through traditional methods.

There is another side to the current legal market. The legal system is not functioning as intended, leaving a gap between those trained to provide legal services and those needing legal services. Simply put, there are many people in need of legal services who simply cannot afford them. Many of these individuals have limited access to legal services because of demographics as well as time constraints. People just do not have the resources and/or the time to spend on quality services, protracted litigation, or other constraints traditionally associated with the practice of law. This gap affects not only individuals without funds for legal services who would be served pro bono but also middle class individuals who are unable to pay the going price for the services they need. This causes many to make the choice to forego legal services altogether.

This “access to justice paradox” asks “[h]ow is it that we have people badly in need of a lawyer with no one to turn to and, at the same time, find that thousands of young lawyers are unemployed and underemployed?” The problem is much more than just mere economics or supply and demand—“[t]he access to justice paradox seems to defy the most basic principles of supply and demand.”

RADICAL CHANGES MAY NOT BE NEGATIVE IF WE THINK LIKE LEADERS IN THE LAW
With “[t]he status quo . . . coming unstuck” and a realization that the past is just that—the past, the legal profession will have to face changes, but such changes do not have to negatively impact our practice of law. As a profession, we can face the task of recognizing the change in the legal market and make adjustments in our practices, allowing us to provide necessary legal services to our communities. As law students, when we entered law school, many of our professors told us that law school would “teach us to think like a lawyer.” Expanding on this common phrase, we should not just think like a lawyer, but also think like a leader in the law. As attorneys, we have received three years of formal training and possess a unique skill set. Law school taught us to see, think, and read critically. It also trained us to keep an eye towards identifying potential problems, exploring options, developing and analyzing thoughtful solutions, and advocating for the implementation of those solutions. With this refined skill set and training, we often find ourselves being the key decision maker, the counselor and advisor, the advocate of change—the one everyone in the room is looking to for the answer.

There are times to be bold and times to be understanding and compassionate. We have learned to be articulate and skillful with our communication, to be good listeners, and to identify things others may miss. Therefore, we must have courage to lead and speak out where voices are not heard, where rights need to be defended, and where remedies and protections need to be asserted. We become leaders in our communities, we become leaders in the boardroom, we become advocates for those who have no voice—regardless of their economics, demographics, and physical limitations or circumstances. We need to think and act as leaders in the law and that will allow our profession to meet the challenges it now faces.

The preamble to the Utah Rules of Professional Conduct discusses this concept of being a leader in the law:

As a public citizen, a lawyer should seek improvement of the law, access to the legal system, the administration of justice and the quality of service rendered by the legal profession. As a member of a learned profession, a lawyer should cultivate knowledge of the law beyond its use for clients, employ that knowledge in reform of the law and work to strengthen legal education...A lawyer should be mindful of deficiencies in the administration of justice and of the fact that the poor, and sometimes persons who are not poor, cannot afford adequate legal assistance and therefore, all lawyers should devote professional time and resources and use civic influence in their behalf to ensure equal access to our system of justice for all those who because of economic or social barriers cannot afford or secure adequate legal counsel.[31]

The responsibility of being an attorney has not changed as a result of the economy or the level of online access individuals have to legal information. Although there is some unrest concerning the current state of the legal profession, if we in the legal profession would reflect upon the essential values contained in the preamble and live up to the aspirations of our profession, the answer becomes much clearer — lawyers can be the solution.

MOVING FORWARD
This is a complex problem. There are no easy solutions. Solving this problem will take changes in practices and attitudes among many different people and groups. But, as members of the Utah Bar, there are things we can all do now to address it. First, supporting existing programs such as pro bono and Modest Means; second, using technology to build relationships; third, finding opportunities to add value to a client’s business; and finally, being open and cognizant of further opportunities.

Support the Current Existing Programs
Over the past several years, the Utah State Bar, in association with the Utah State Courts, has implemented two programs in hopes of addressing, in part, this access to justice paradox. Chief Justice Matthew B. Durrant’s recognition of the Bar's access to justice programs in his State of the Judiciary Address to the legislature acknowledges the progress of these programs:

There are of course situations when self-help resources aren’t enough, when only a lawyer will do, and the State Bar has stepped up with two important programs. The first is the Pro Bono program, in which lawyers accept cases without any compensation, and the second is the recently developed Modest Means program, in which litigants pay on a sliding fee schedule, based on their ability to pay. Both of these efforts require willing lawyers, as well as coordination to get the willing lawyers together with clients in need. The Bar is providing both, and they deserve our thanks for making legal representation more accessible.\[241

In addition to these two programs, we have several local bar associations and sections that continuously volunteer their time in meeting and providing legal services to the underserved members of our public. There are other ways in which the Bar has tried to assist the legal market with additional opportunities to serve the community and to allow attorneys to develop practical skills, such as, the Mentoring Program and Lawyer Referral Directory. In addition, many sections and committee organizations are available within the Bar and noted on the Bar’s website.\[25

Pro bono work, as well as Modest Means work, has many tangible benefits for the attorney providing this service. This work may allow for the learning of a new practice area; refining skills in a current practice area; strengthening client relationship skills by serving a greater number of clients; raising reputation through increased standing among judges and peers; and connecting with various service providers that may be able to serve a paying clients’ needs.\[26 Modest Means may also help build a book of business and develop your reputation within your legal community.

Using Technology To Build and Develop Relationships Today’s legal market is an “increasingly difficult and challenging environment...that calls for clear thinking, strategic focus, and flexibility in addressing rapidly changing realities.”\[27 Technology should not be viewed as a hindrance to our ability to practice law but as a new opportunity. Technological advancements within our profession have enabled us to make substantial cost savings in law office operations and delivery of legal services. As an example, as much as I enjoy listening to the bands of the 1970s, I must admit it is more enjoyable hearing the rich harmonics, bone-jarring base beats, organ runs, and sound quality with today’s technology than the 8-track stereos of yesterday. Today we do not need to have shelves of books to do our research, but instead we may simply press a button to turn on a computer and begin typing the issue we need to research.
We no longer need to assemble bound documents and boxes for mailing and delivery; we may simply drop those documents into a folder and easily press “send,” and they are delivered and accessible instantaneously.

However, even with the influx of technology into the legal profession, attorneys need to remember they have a distinctive advantage over web-based legal services — and that is personal service. At the 2012
American Bar Association’s Tech Show, speakers urged the implementation of technology to establish personal relationships with customers and increase communication.\[28 There simply is no replacement for the face-to-face meeting to solve problems and provide solutions.
Even if we continue to advance down the road of greater technology and if alternative legal services find some way of advancing their product by incorporating an artificial intelligence quotient, it will never approach the personal and emotional empathy that we provide and personally offer to our clients. We should remain ever vigilant in helping our clients avoid problems before they arise. We should let them know we have a genuine concern for them and their business. We do not have to wait for their call to show our concern or assistance but can simply send an email, forward an online article, or pick up the phone and have a meaningful discussion.

Adding Value to a Client's Business
In today’s market, and as we establish sacred attorney-client bonds, we should always be looking for ways to assist our clients, peers, and colleagues to avoid problems before they arise. To distinguish us as attorneys — especially from the alternative legal service providers — we should let clients witness that we do possess a genuine concern for them and their business. We need to be actively engaged in providing service that is personal, valued, and specific to the client. Our clients should always feel that we are doing our best to address their concerns and problems, that we are effectively communicating with them, and that we in return value our relationship with them and the opportunity to provide them with pertinent legal services.

For many years, an attorney's ability to know where to find the answer to a client's legal question was a feature that made attorneys indispensable. Now, a Google search can find the same answer to that client's legal question in less time and for less money. Although clients may not fully understand how to search the internet for the correct answer or properly use nontraditional legal services, it is still a resource they are willing to seek out and try as an alternative. But, just knowing where to find the answer does not develop trust. We develop a “trusting relationship… [by] investing…time to understand [the] client’s business and doing a better job seeing the world through their eyes.”

We need to put ourselves in the client’s shoes and ask, if we were this client, is this the type of legal service we would expect to receive? “This gives us the best opportunity to use our legal expertise to solve their problems in a way that makes attorneys indispensable. Thus, as our clients grow, we have the opportunity to grow with them.” This growth enriches both attorneys and clients economically as well as personally over time.

Build Your Professional Reputation by Getting Involved in Your Local and State Bar and Your Community

Attorneys typically only receive referrals from individuals who know and respect them. Reputation is most likely the best tool to develop business. It may take many years to build a positive reputation and just one negative incident to destroy it. All attorneys — and especially those new to the Bar — can build a positive professional reputation by volunteering with various legal and community groups, attending bar association events, and assisting with pro bono legal clinics. These experiences will not only provide attorneys with a greater network and the opportunity to build a positive professional reputation, but they will also allow for opportunities to provide more legal services to the community through pro bono or the Modest Means Program.

At all times, we must always remember to make it a priority to adhere to civility and ethics in our practice and in the manner we conduct our daily lives. We become professional by acting professional. We have a great opportunity – because of who we are and what we are – to provide services within the communities we live in. We can serve our communities, our neighbors, and friends by volunteering and serving on local boards and councils. As we simply get involved, we have the good fortune to meet new people in our community and forge new relationships and associations with them and they in return get to know us as individuals who – when needed – can provide them with the legal services they require.

Radical Changes vs. Rethinking the Paradigm

It could be argued that the simple thoughts and solutions outlined above are grossly insufficient to cope with the ever-evolving changes facing our profession as a result of advancements in technology and globalization. Perhaps more significant changes do need to take place among several sectors of our society. First, is it time to take a closer look at law schools and the legal education format they are utilizing as some have advocated? Should the model in the law schools be reviewed and revised? Should greater emphasis be placed on graduating law students that are fundamentally equipped to meet the rigors of the legal environment with better technical, management, and interpersonal skills?

Others would advance that we, as attorneys, need to be more open as a legal profession to innovations, new ideas, and alternatives to the current model and traditional practices in our profession. They advance ideas such as finding ways to let in alternative legal service providers and opening up limited practices to technicians, paralegals, and others who do not necessarily want to engage in the traditional practice of law. They suggest that the legal profession should allow some of these unmet legal services to be serviced by outsiders with specific training, and we, as attorneys, should assist in developing and refining those providers with the proper skills and settings to provide such services; that bar associations should be more forward thinking and look for ways of complementing our practice and unmet needs with technology and globalization that is available to the profession today; or that the legal profession should adopt a “one-stop” shopping model where clients can tap into the expertise and assistance of several professionals under one roof. Perhaps those other professions are just as suited to providing such services – we see it happening more each day with title companies, accountants, insurance agencies, engineers, business executives, and entrepreneurs. Should we be so resistant in limiting such outside professionals, or should we be more conscientious in constructively coordinating our services with these other professions to further meet the needs of the adapting legal consumer? Finally, should we be more proactive in improving our traditional model and breaking down the barriers that limit our efficiency and effectiveness – such as looking to expertise in better management of operations, capital infusion of law practices, different paradigms, utilization of bridge programs such as incubators for new lawyers or service clinics for underemployed lawyers to further train and refine their professional skills and thereby providing service at a greater reduced cost? Has the time come for serious consideration of such changes, or will such changes be considered extreme and radical by some within our profession, or as the beginning of the demise of our great profession?

CONCLUSION

It is clear the legal profession is going through a change, but the nobility and honor of our profession remains a constant. As leaders in the law, we have the opportunity before us to create a market that still requires our unique skills, ideas, and commitment in solving today’s problems. We should not fear the changes coming to our profession but seek out and look for ways to benefit our practice and profession by providing valuable services more efficiently and economically. We should continuously look for opportunities to serve, to create better access to ourselves and our services, and to always approach our profession honorably by acting at all times within our practice with civility, diligence, and integrity. As we refocus our efforts and embrace the changes before us, we can uphold the principles of our profession and provide greater access to legal services. But are attorneys, law firms, and bar associations prepared to confront and meet these ever-evolving changes brought on by technology, globalization, and consumer demands? This is the real question and are we not the ones who possess the unique skills and training to be problem solvers and provide solutions?

Summer Convention

The Utah State Bar puts on thousands of hours of continuing legal education in the state each year. The primary focus of the annual convention is different. It is to provide lawyers with an environment in which they can become more familiar with each other in informal and non-confrontational settings and become better educated about current legal developments, issues facing the Bar, and trends in the profession and the judiciary. We believe that the administration of the justice system will more appropriately function when its participants deal with each other with civility and are able to communicate more effectively with one another. This familiarly is facilitated, not surprisingly, from lawyers taking the time to get away from the often-confrontational relationships festering in today's practice settings.

We have found the greatest success at locations which provide the greatest variety of recreational and social events, where costs might be kept reasonable for lawyers, and at locations which are familiar to lawyers and their families. We break even on the event through sponsorships, vendors and registration fees. No general dues are used.

We regularly discuss how we might bring the event to Utah. It is our experience that the type of education and networking in a family-friendly recreational location can not be accommodated within the state just yet because no single property can appropriately house the numbers we attract and because conventions held in Salt Lake historically are poorly attended and cannot provide the get-away needed. Even if we were to hold a convention in Salt Lake, the economic impact would be minimal because lawyers would not stay overnight downtown.

We hold two conventions in the state each year. The Fall Forum is held every year on one day in November in Salt Lake and the Spring Convention is held over three days every March in St. George. Each provides some unique form of networking. The Spring Convention includes overnight accommodations, recreational activities and social events. It is becoming almost as large an event as the Summer Convention. As a practical matter we are almost outgrowing St. George.

We have regularly reviewed hotel availability closer to the Wasatch Front which might satisfy our needs, but none is large enough for the regular number of attendees we get annually at the Summer Convention. Park City needs additional space and its proximity to Salt Lake makes it problematic. Cedar City has enough hotel rooms throughout the city and it is far enough away with great recreational opportunities, but the hotel rooms are not close to each other and it might be difficult to completely book all that are available right now.

The primary location for the Summer Convention has recently been Sun Valley. We occasionally plan the event for southern California. Sun Valley has provided a wonderful blend of comfort, proximity, and recreational variety. The Sinclair Oil management team is aware of our concerns and constantly reminds us about their contacts to the state and the Utah-based resources which are used in operating that property.

It would be our desire to hold the Summer Convention in state. While it is a small part of the activities of the Bar and constitutes a miniscule number of the CLE hours we provide in the

PROPOSED RULE
Utah Bar Rules re: Inactive & Pro Bono

14-803 Inactive Attorneys – rewrite, replace 14-804 Military Attorneys – indicate can do pro bono under 803
14-719 House Counsel – indicate can do pro bono under 803

14-803 Pro Bono Authorization for Utah Inactive Attorneys and Attorneys Admitted in Other States.

(1) Authorization to Provide Pro Bono Services. An Utah attorney who is enrolled as inactive under Rule 14-110-14-203(a)(4) of the rules governing the Utah State Bar or an attorney who is admitted in another state and is in good standing or its equivalent in all jurisdictions in which the attorney is admitted, shall be authorized to provide pro bono legal services under the following circumstances:

(a) without compensation or an expectation of compensation as described in Rule 6.1 of the Utah Rules of Professional Conduct;

(b) to persons of limited means or to organizations, as defined in paragraph (7) of this rule; and

(c) under the auspices of a sponsoring entity, which must be a not-for-profit legal services organization, governmental entity, law school – Utah State Bar affiliate Utah State Bar program, local Bar affiliated bar association or committee, or other organization so designated by the Utah State Bar as providing pro bono legal services as defined in paragraph (7) of this rule.

(2) Duties of Sponsoring Entities. In order to qualify as a sponsoring entity, an organization must submit to the Utah State Bar an application identifying the nature of the organization as one described in section (1)(c) of this rule. In the application, the organization shall verify that they will provide appropriate training and support for volunteers. The organization is required to inform the Utah State Bar if the organization ceases to be a sponsoring entity under this rule.

(3) Procedure for Attorneys Seeking Authorization to Provide Pro Bono Services. An attorney admitted in Utah who is enrolled as inactive or an attorney who is admitted in another state but not in Utah, who seeks to provide pro bono services under this rule shall submit a statement to the Utah State Bar including a verification from a sponsoring entity or entities indicating that the attorney will be participating in a pro bono program under the auspices of that entity. An attorney who is seeking authorization based on admission in another state or states shall also disclose all other state admissions and certify they are in good standing or its equivalent in that–those jurisdictions. The attorney’s statement shall include the attorney’s agreement that he or she will participate in any training required by the sponsoring entity. The attorney’s statement shall further also include a certificate of good standing or its equivalent and a disciplinary history and a sworn statement that the attorney has read and is familiar with the Utah Rules of Professional Conduct and will abide by them, that the attorney submits to the jurisdiction of the Utah Supreme Court and the Utah State Bar for disciplinary purposes, and that the attorney will neither ask for nor receive compensation of any kind for the legal services authorized. Upon receiving the attorney’s statement with the entity’s verification all information required under this paragraph, the Utah State Bar shall cause the master roll its records to reflect that the attorney is certified to provide pro bono services. That certification shall continue until the end of the calendar-licensing year in which the statement is submitted, unless the lawyer or the sponsoring entity sends notice to the Utah State Bar that the program or the lawyer’s participation in the program has ended.

(4) Renewal of Authorization and Certification. An attorney who has been authorized to provide pro bono services under this rule may—must timely renew the authorization on an annual basis through the Utah State Bar’s relicensing process in order to continue providing pro bono legal services under this rule. In addition, an attorney who is seeking renewal based on admission in another state shall reaffirm—resubmit that they are in good standing in all jurisdictions in which the attorney is admitted, certificates of good standing or the equivalent and disciplinary histories from all other states in which the attorney is admitted.

(5) MCLE Exemption. The provisions of Rule 14-504 exempting attorneys from MCLE requirements by reason of being enrolled as inactive shall apply to inactive attorneys authorized to provide pro bono services under this rule, except that such attorneys shall participate in training to the extent required by the sponsoring entity.

(6) Disciplinary Authority. Lawyers admitted in another state who are providing legal services in this jurisdiction are subject to Utah Court’s disciplinary authority, as provided in Rule 8.5 of the Rules of Professional Conduct, and all other Rules of Professional Conduct. Any lawyer who provides legal services pursuant to this rule shall not be considered to be engaged in the unlawful practice of law in this jurisdiction.

(7) Authorized Pro Bono Legal Services. Pro bono legal services as is defined in Rule 6.1 (a) and (b)(1) of the Rules of Professional Conduct includes: (a) legal services rendered to a person of limited means; (b) legal services to charitable, religious, civic, community, governmental or educational organizations in matters designed to address the needs of persons of limited means; (c) legal services to charitable, religious, civic, or community organizations in matters in furtherance of their organizational purposes.

(8) Expenses and Attorney Fee Awards. The prohibition against compensation for the volunteer attorney shall not prevent the approved legal services organization from reimbursing the volunteer attorney for actual expenses incurred while rendering services hereunder nor shall it prevent the approved legal services organization from making such charges for its services as it may otherwise properly charge. The approved legal services organization shall be entitled to receive all court-awarded attorney fees for any representation rendered by the volunteer attorney.
Comment:

[1] A volunteer attorney participating in any program advertised and recruited for through the Pro Bono Commission only needs to submit one statement. The Access to Justice Coordinator will then certify that volunteer for any sponsoring entities participating through the Pro Bono Commission.

[2] An attorney approved under this rule shall be assigned a certification number, which shall be used to identify the attorney’s status as a pro bono attorney for purposes of e-filing access and recognition of limited status.

[3] This rule is intended to allow all attorneys, in good standing, to participate in pro bono services; including inactive, retired, military attorneys, or in house counsel practicing under a limited license. This rule does not allow attorneys licensed outside of Utah to participate in other legal practice absent conforming to pro hace vice requirements.
CURRENT RULE
Rule 14-803. Inactive lawyers providing legal services for legal services organizations; purposes.

(a) Individuals admitted to the practice of law in Utah have a responsibility to provide competent legal services for all persons, including those unable to pay for such services.

(b) A lawyer who is or was admitted to practice law before the Supreme Court and who has assumed inactive status may provide legal services with an approved legal services organization if he or she:

(b)(1) has been a member in good standing of the Bar and has been approved to participate in the inactive pro bono lawyer program by the Bar's Office of Professional Conduct; and

(b)(2) agrees to abide by the Utah Rules of Professional Conduct and submit to the jurisdiction of the Bar for disciplinary purposes; and

(b)(3) neither asks for nor receives compensation of any kind for the legal services to be rendered.

(c) Activities. A volunteer attorney, in association with an approved legal services organization and under the general supervision of a supervising attorney, may:

(c)(1) appear in any court or before any administrative tribunal or arbitrator in Utah on behalf of a client of an approved legal services organization if a supervising attorney has given written approval for that appearance;

(c)(2) prepare pleadings and other documents signed by the volunteer attorney and supervising attorney to be filed in any court or before any administrative tribunal or arbitrator in Utah in any manner in which the volunteer attorney is involved;

(c)(3) render legal advice and perform other appropriate legal services but only after prior consultation with, and upon the express consent of, the supervising attorney; and

(c)(4) engage in such other preparatory activities as are necessary for any matter in which he or she is involved.

(d) Supervision and limitations.

(d)(1) A volunteer attorney may not perform authorized activities unless he or she is under the general supervision of a supervising attorney.

(d)(2) Volunteer attorneys are not, and shall not represent themselves to be, active members of the Bar licensed to practice law generally in Utah.

(d)(3) The prohibition against compensation for the volunteer attorney shall not prevent the approved legal services organization from reimbursing the volunteer attorney for actual expenses incurred while rendering services hereunder nor shall it prevent the approved legal services organization from making such charges for its services as it may otherwise properly charge. The approved legal services organization shall be entitled to receive all court-awarded attorney fees for any representation rendered by the volunteer attorney.

(e) Certification and documentation.

(e)(1) Authorization to obtain an inactive pro bono attorney status in order for a volunteer attorney to perform authorized services shall become effective upon filing with and approval by the Bar of:

(e)(1)(A) a notice of authorization issued by an approved legal services organization with which the volunteer attorney is currently associated that states that an attorney employed by that organization will assume the duties of the supervising attorney; and

(e)(1)(B) a sworn statement by the volunteer attorney that he or she:

(e)(1)(B)(i) has read and is familiar with the Utah Rules of Professional Conduct as adopted by the Supreme Court and will abide by the provisions thereof;

(e)(1)(B)(ii) submits to the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court and the Bar for disciplinary purposes; and

(e)(1)(B)(iii) will neither ask for nor receive compensation of any kind for the legal services authorized.

(e)(2) Certification as an inactive lawyer providing pro bono legal services will not affect or negate the volunteer attorney’s obligation to pay his or her annual inactive license fee.

(f) Withdrawal of certification.

(f)(1) If a volunteer attorney’s certification is withdrawn for any reason, the supervising attorney shall immediately file a notice of such action in the official file of each matter pending before any court or tribunal in which the volunteer attorney was involved. In addition, all clients of the volunteer attorney immediately shall be notified.

(f)(2) An approved legal services organization may withdraw certification at any time and it is not necessary that the notice state the cause of such withdrawal. A copy of the notice filed with the Bar also shall be mailed by the organization to the volunteer attorney. The notice shall state either:

(f)(2)(A) the volunteer attorney has ceased to be associated with the organization, which notice must be filed within five days after such association has ceased; or that

(f)(2)(B) the notice of authorization is withdrawn.
(f)(3) The Bar, in its discretion and at any time, may withdraw authorization to perform authorized services. A copy of such notice shall be mailed by the Bar to the volunteer attorney and to the approved legal services organization to which he or she had been certified.

(g) Discipline. In addition to any appropriate proceedings including the unauthorized practice of law and attorney discipline which may be initiated by the Bar, pursuant to Article 5, Lawyer Discipline and Disability and other law, the volunteer attorney shall be subject to the following measures:

(g)(1) the presiding judge or hearing officer for any matter in which the volunteer attorney has participated may hold the volunteer attorney in contempt for any failure to abide by such tribunal’s orders; and

(g)(2) the Bar or the approved legal services organization may, at any time, with or without cause, withdraw certification.

Ex-Officio Members: Dean Robert Alder, Heather Allen, Jesse Nix, Gabe White, Margaret Plane, Lawrence Stevens, Prof. Carl Hernandez (for Dean Rasband), Executive Director John C. Baldwin, Assistant Executive Director Richard Dibblee, General Counsel Elizabeth A. Wright and Supreme Court Liaison Tim Shea.

Also in Attendance: Sean Toomey, Utah State Bar Communications Director, UVU Student Mr. Gonzalez, a guest of Tom Seiler.

Minutes:

1. President’s Report:

1.2. John Lund reported on the Futures Committee. Purpose of the Committee is to gather input and study the future delivery of legal and law related services to individuals and small businesses. Committee is planning to meet two times per month with the goal of preparing a report to the Court and the Commission listing 5 action steps for how the Bar can meet the needs of a changing profession. Goal is to have a report ready for the July 2015 Summer Convention.

1.3. Constitution Day. John Baldwin reported on the success of constitution day. Figures for lawyer participation and the number of classrooms served are behind Tab 1.
1.4. Dickson Burton reported on Magna Carta Project. Exhibit will be in Utah for two weeks in April 2015 and travel throughout the state. Program will involve schools and perhaps essay competitions. Gala event planned for April 14, 2015. Lawyers and community leaders will be invited to gala.

1.5. Fall Forum will take place at the Little America on November 20 and 21, 2014. Judges reception and CLE will be on Thursday evening the 20th. This is a new and exciting opportunity for lawyers to mingle with Judges from all over the state. Commissioners were encouraged to attend the Fall Forum.

1.6. Ethics Advisory Opinion Committee Opinion. Advisory opinion states it is a violation of the Rules 7.1 and 7.2 of the Rules of Professional Conduct to pay a consumer advocate to endorse a law firm. Opinion is behind Tab 11. Jim Gilson reported the advisory opinion had been appealed and that the Ethics Advisory Committee was hearing arguments regarding the objection to the opinion. Procedurally, the next appeal could be to the Commission.

1.7. Bar Program Review Committees. Jim Gilson distributed a handout listing the committee assignments for the four Bar program performance reviews. Programs to be reviewed are: OPC, Summer Convention, NLTP and the Bar Budget. Review Committees should get to know programs very well and give reports on how the programs are doing. Each Committee should have a report for the July 2015 Summer Convention Commission meeting in Sun Valley. Each Committee should meet before the next Commission Meeting in December 5, 2014. Committee Assignments are as follows:

OPC:
- Larry Stevens
- Margaret Plane
- Herm Olsen
- Tom Seiler
- Susanne Gustin
- Steve Burt

Summer Convention:
- Dickson Burton
- Angelina Tsu
- Heather Farnsworth
- Jim Gilson
- Curtis Jensen
- Aida Neimarlija

NLTP:
- Kenyon Dove
- Jessie Nix
- Nate Alder
- Kat Judd

Budget:
- Mary Kay Griffin
- Jim Gilson
- Angelina Tsu
- Janise Macanas
- Heather Allen
- Tim Shea

2. Action Items:

2.1. 2016 Summer Convention Site. Angelina reported that she and Aida have been going over prior summer convention budgets and Angelina reported on strategies for increasing attendance and cutting costs. Strategies included more personalized networking to encourage attendance and not providing so many free registrations. Angelina and Aida are still in negotiations with hotels in California. They cannot make a recommendation until all figures are in. Front runners are Hyatt in San Diego and St. Regis in Laguna Beach. Commission once again discussed high cost and low attendance at summer convention and whether or not the Bar should continue to hold the event.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Commission
FROM: Elizabeth A. Wright
DATE: For December 5, 2014 Commission Meeting
RE: Updates on Selected Bar Matters

PETITION FOR ADVERTISING RULE CHANGES

Background: On February 11, 2013, the Bar filed a petition to revise the Utah Rules of Professional Conduct for Lawyer Advertising. The Bar’s proposed amendments were published for public comment on June 11, 2013. Twenty-nine of the 30 comments received were opposed to the rules. The Court then asked the Supreme Court’s Advisory Committee on the Rules of Professional Conduct (Committee) to review the proposed rules and comments and make further recommendations to the Court.

Current Status: On June 27, 2014, the Bar and the Committee filed a Joint Amended Petition to Revise Utah Rules of Professional Conduct for Lawyer Advertising. The Court sent the proposed rules back to the Committee with suggested changes. The Committee met in September and made all of the Court’s changes. The Court sent the rules back out for comment and the comment period expires on December 16, 2014.

The Court made various tweaks to the language in the amended proposed rules. Substantively, the Court removed proposed language in 7.1 that said a communication is misleading if “it compares the lawyer’s services with other lawyers’ services, unless the comparison can be factually substantiated.” The Court also removed proposed language in 7.2 that defined advertisement as “any communication made to induce persons to use a lawyer’s services.” The Court thought the proposed definition of advertisement was too broad.

There have been five comments from three different lawyers since October 30, 2014. A lawyer has objected to the proposed Rule 7.2 language that requires lawyers to disclose if actors or fictionalized events are used in advertising. The lawyer objects because he would like to be able to use stock photos on his website. (The rule does allow stock photos or fictionalized events if they are labeled as such). Two commenters objected to already existing language in Rule 7.3 that prohibits a lawyer from soliciting clients. One commenter objected to proposed 7.1(b) language that states a communication is false or misleading if “it is likely to create an unjustified or unreasonable expectation about results the lawyer can achieve.” The commenter believes that “unjustified or unreasonable” is too subjective and that a “material misrepresentation” standard should be used.

UPL

Mary Ann Lucero

Background: In 1997 the Bar obtained an injunction against Mary Ann Lucero prohibiting her from practicing law without a license. She had represented a landlord in an eviction action and taken all the rent money for herself. Ms. Lucero continued to practice law and in 2008 the Bar was able to obtain a bench warrant for her arrest. She served 120 days in jail in 2009. Ms. Lucero is very brazen and has continued to steal people’s money under the guise of acting as their lawyer. She conducts her business out of an office called “Wasatch Legal & Collection Services, LLC” in Draper. She tells her clients she will help them with their legal problems, takes a retainer, or in some cases, sets up a monthly payment plan and then does nothing or files one or two poorly drafted legal documents.

The Bar has been in constant pursuit of Ms. Lucero. We have tried to involve the AG’s office to no avail. She is difficult to serve and she keeps filing bankruptcy to stay the Bar’s civil proceedings against her.

Current Status: On October 29, 2014, Ms. Lucero failed to appear for an Order to Show Cause hearing. Judge Kennedy issued a bench warrant for her arrest, ordered her to serve 120 days in jail and pay $13,000 in fines. The Bar issued a press release in hopes that someone would help us find her and to warn other victims to verify that someone is a licensed lawyer before Costs For 2014: For the 2014 calendar year Kipp and Christian (discounted billing rate) resulting in $5,877.33 through October 2014; allocation of General Counsel time.

Utah State Bar Warns Citizens of Scam Artist Acting as Attorney
Unsuspecting clients—especially immigrants—fall victim to fraud.

Imagine someone impersonating an attorney helping you obtain proceeds from your spouse’s life insurance policy only to have your “attorney” steal the proceeds. Envision paying for help with a foreclosure only to lose your home to the person who was purporting to help you. At least these people retained their freedom; one man in jail lost $850 that his mother paid for legal assistance that never materialized. These unfortunate victims have one thing in common: Mary Ann Lucero, also known as Mary Ann Dipoma, who is not an attorney, but operates under the name of Wasatch Legal and Collection Services.

On October 29, 2014, Third District Court Judge Kennedy issued a bench warrant for her arrest, ordering her to spend 210 days in jail and pay $13,000 in fines for violating an order prohibiting her from practicing law without a license. Anyone aware of Lucero/Dipoma’s whereabouts should contact the Utah State Bar at 801-531-9077 or info@utahbar.org.

“Only persons who are active, licensed members of the Bar in good standing may engage in the practice of law in Utah” says Sarah Spencer, who, along with Jonathan Rupp, co-chairs the Utah State Bar’s Committee on the Unauthorized Practice of Law. The committee is comprised of volunteer Utah attorneys who investigate complaints that non-attorneys are engaging in the practice of law. Spencer notes that “licensed attorneys are initially tested for skill and character, they commit to ethics rules, and they continue to develop competency through education, resulting in a profession that serves the community.”

Before engaging someone who purports to be an attorney, please confirm their status by calling the Bar or visiting www.utahbar.org/directory/.

According to Co-chair Rupp, immigrants are often the targets of this fraud scheme. “In Latin American countries,” he observes, “notary publics are attorneys, so it is easy to confuse those new to this country about who can practice law and who can be an immigration consultant.” Utah is one of five states that allow people to work as immigration consultants without a law degree, but registration with Utah’s Office of Consumer Protection is required for non-attorneys. To verify registration, call 801-530-6601 and press zero or visit www.dcp.utah.gov and select the green Search Registered Entities on the left.

Utah State Bar President James Gilson says that, “The Bar has many programs to assist people who may not be able to afford an attorney, who have limited funds, or who are unfamiliar with the legal process.” The Tuesday Night Bar provides a free half-hour consultation with an attorney most Tuesdays. The Bar also offers a lawyer-referral service for qualifying clients (with incomes of up to $70,000 for a family of four) for discounted rates of up to $50 or $75 an hour; www.utahbar.org/affordable.

The Utah State Bar was established in 1931 and regulates the practice of law under the authority of the Utah Supreme Court. The 11,500 lawyers of the Bar serve the public and legal profession with excellence, civility, and integrity. They envision a just legal system that is understood, valued, and accessible to all. Visit www.utahbar.org for more information on the Bar and the programs described above.

A 3rd District judge has issued a warrant for Mary Ann Lucero based on violations of a civil court order that bars her from practicing law without a license. Lucero, who also uses the name Mary Ann Dipoma, has been practicing law without a license for the past 20 years, according to the Utah State Bar.

Salt Lake County Jail

Summary
A warrant has been issued for a woman the Utah State Bar considers a "scam artist" based on her long history of representing herself as an attorney to defraud people. "She did serve jail time in 2009. — 210 days in jail for the unauthorized practice of law — but that didn't stop her. She's continued since then to not only engage in the unauthorized practice of law, but to really rip people off. She's a scam artist." Elizabeth Wright

SALT LAKE CITY — A warrant has been issued for a woman whom the Utah State Bar considers a "scam artist" based on her long history of misrepresenting herself as an attorney.

Judge John Paul Kennedy issued the $13,000 warrant for Mary Ann Lucero's arrest after she failed to appear for an Oct. 29 hearing in 3rd District Court. Kennedy also sentenced Lucero, also known as Mary Ann Dipoma, to serve 210 days in jail and pay a $7,000 fine for violating the terms of an order that prohibits her from practicing law without a license.

The Utah State Bar first began investigating Lucero in 1994, according to Elizabeth Wright, the bar's general counsel. Three years later, the organization obtained an injunction against Lucero that prohibited her from practicing law without a license.

"She did serve jail time in 2009 — 210 days in jail for the unauthorized practice of law — but that didn't stop her," Wright said. "She's continued since then to not only engage in the unauthorized practice of law, but to really rip people off. She's a scam artist."

The new violations of the court's order arise out of Lucero's actions in recent months. In one incident, Lucero told a Salt Lake County man she was a lawyer and offered to help him get life insurance benefits following his wife's death, court records show.

"After all was done, (the man) received nothing but Ms. Lucero had all his funds," court records state.

Lucero also told a woman she was an attorney who could help her avoid foreclosure on an investment property, according to the court records. When the case was finished, court records show Lucero's boyfriend held the title to the client's property.

Court records also show that a state prison inmate and his mother paid Lucero $850 after she told them she specializes in handling police abuse cases. She took the money but never filed a lawsuit, according to the allegations.

Lucero does have prior convictions for communications fraud, court records indicate. Wright said the state bar offers an easy way for people to make sure the person they are hiring is a licensed attorney.

"You can either call the bar or go to our website, www.utahbar.org, and verify whether or not someone is a lawyer," she said.

Anyone with information about where Lucero may be is asked to call their local police department or the Utah State Bar at 801-531-9077.

Board of Commissioners
Utah State Bar
645 South 200 East, Suite 310
Salt Lake City, UT 84111

Dear Board Members:

We have audited the financial statements of the Utah State Bar (the Bar) as of June 30, 2014 and for the year then ended (fiscal year 2014), and have issued our report thereon dated October 8, 2014. We are required to provide you with information about our responsibilities under auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, as well as certain information related to the planned scope and timing of our audit. We have communicated such information in our letter to you dated July 10, 2014. Professional standards also require that we communicate to you the following information related to our audit.

Qualitative Aspects of Accounting Policies
Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. The significant accounting policies used by the Bar are described in Note 1 to the financial statements. No accounting policies were adopted that had a significant impact on financial reporting and the application of existing policies was not changed during fiscal year 2014. We noted no transactions entered into by the Bar during fiscal year 2014 for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. All significant transactions have been recognized in the financial statements in the proper period.

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management’s knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. The most sensitive estimate affecting the financial statements is the economic useful lives of property and equipment. The economic useful lives are based on the expected number of years the asset will be used. Management revisits these assumptions annually and adjusts the economic useful lives if warranted.

We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop the estimate above in determining that it is reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

The financial statement disclosures are neutral, consistent and clear.

Difficulties Encountered in Performing and Completing the Audit
We encountered no difficulties in dealing with management in performing and completing the audit.

Corrected and Uncorrected Misstatements
Professional standards require us to accumulate all known and likely misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. Management has corrected all such misstatements. The adjustment made during the audit is presented in the attached Exhibit.

Disagreements with Management
For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditors’ report. No such disagreements arose during the course of the audit.
Management Representations
We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated October 8, 2014. A copy of that letter has been provided to you.

Management Consultations with Other Independent Accountants
Management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a “second opinion” in certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the Bar's financial statements or a determination of the type of auditors’ opinion that may be expressed on those statements, professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Other Audit Findings or Issues
We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with management prior to retention as the Bar’s auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention.

Independence
Independence is crucial to the performance of audit services. We are subject to the independence standards of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

All partners and employees of our firm are provided access to our policies and procedures relating to independence and conflicts of interest. Annually, we obtain written confirmation from partners and employees about their adherence to these policies.

There are no relationships between Tanner LLC and the Bar that in our professional judgment may reasonably be thought to impair our independence.

Other Information in Documents Containing Audited Financial Statements
With respect to the supplemental schedules accompanying the financial statements, we made certain inquiries of management and evaluated the form, content, and methods of preparing the information to determine that the information complies with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, the method of preparing it has not changed from the prior year, and the information is appropriate and complete in relation to our audit of the financial statements. We compared and reconciled the supplemental schedules to the underlying accounting records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves.

We will be pleased to respond to any questions you have about the foregoing. We appreciate the opportunity to be of service to the Bar.

This information is intended solely for the use of the Board of Commissioners, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone else.

Sincerely,

Tanner LLC

Board of Commissioners and Management
Utah State Bar
645 South 200 East, Suite 310
Salt Lake City, UT 84111

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of the Utah State Bar (the Bar) as of June 30, 2014 and for the year then ended, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Bar’s internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Bar’s internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Bar’s internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified. In addition, because of inherent limitations in internal control, including the possibility of management override of controls, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected by such controls.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Bar’s financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

We consider the following deficiencies to be significant deficiencies:

Segregation of Incompatible Duties in Accounting and Finance Functions

Internal controls should be designed to safeguard assets and help prevent losses, errors, or fraudulent acts. A fundamental concept in an adequate system of internal control is the segregation of incompatible duties. Proper segregation of incompatible duties dictates that the same individual should be involved only once in the authorization, recording, asset custody, and control activities related to a transaction. Currently, individuals have roles in more than one function of authorization, recording, asset custody, and control activities of a transaction.
We noted the following incompatible duties:

- The Chief Financial Officer authorizes accounts receivable write-offs and reconciles the bank account.
- The Chief Financial Officer has access to payroll records, prepares payroll checks, distributes payroll checks, and reconciles the payroll bank accounts and other bank accounts.
- The Chief Financial Officer maintains the general ledger, is authorized to record general ledger journal entries without independent review, and reconciles the bank accounts.

We suggest that management reassess the Bar’s internal controls over these processes to ensure that proper segregation of incompatible duties for authorizing, recording, and maintaining custody of assets exists to reduce the opportunity for any one person to be in a position to both perpetrate and conceal irregularities.

Documentation of Review of Manual Journal Entries
To prevent one person from manipulating financial information and compromising assets, a review of manual journal entries must be done by another person who did not prepare the manual journal entries. There is no documentation of reviews of manual journal entries. We suggest that management reassess their processes for review of manual journal entries to ensure that another person who did not prepare the entries reviews them and that proper documentation of those reviews is maintained.

****************

The following deficiencies should be considered as part of the ongoing process of modifying and improving the Bar’s internal control practices and procedures:

Documenting Transaction Processes
The Bar has not formally documented the processes and controls surrounding its key accounting processes including cash receipts, cash disbursements, property and equipment purchases, payroll, and the monthly financial close. Documenting these processes will help transition new employees into their roles and ensure that employees know and understand their responsibilities. Creating checklists will assist in ensuring all adjustments have been made to the financial statements at the end of a reporting period.

Third-Party SOC 1 Reports
The third-party payroll processing company, Intuit, does not have a SOC 1 report. A SOC 1 report provides reasonable assurance that transactions with the third party are captured completely, accurately, and timely. We suggest that management take into consideration whether a third-party provider has a SOC 1 report when choosing a third-party provider.

Documentation of Control Performance
The Bar does not currently retain evidence documenting the performance of certain internal controls (e.g., John Baldwin’s monthly review of the financial statements). We were able, through inquiry of several individuals, to gain an understanding that these controls were generally being performed; however, we recommend that management create physical evidence of control performance (e.g., John Baldwin’s signature and date on the financial statements after his review).
Bar Credit Cards
The Bar currently provides credit cards to various employees including the IT director. The risk of misappropriation of Bar assets is greater when Bar credit cards are provided to employees, including an employee responsible to purchase information technology equipment. We recommend the Bar consider canceling Bar issued credit cards and implementing processes and controls for reimbursing employees for authorized purchases.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Commissioners and management, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Sincerely,

Tanner LLC
